

<http://www.apnewsarchive.com/2018/Clarification-White-House-Visitor-Logs-story/id-23d83d5f1a174213b33d4106dabb0d31>

Clarification: White House-Visitor Logs story

Apr 13, 2018 Updated Apr 13, 2018

The White House in Washington, Wednesday, April 11, 2018. The White House has begun making public visitor logs for four agencies in the presidential complex after a watchdog group sued for access. Public Citizen filed a suit in August saying the Trump administration was violating the Freedom of Information Act by refusing to release information about visitors to the agencies. (AP Photo/Manuel Balce Ceneta)

Manuel Balce Ceneta

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a story April 13, The Associated Press reported that Marlo Lewis and Myron Ebell of the libertarian Competitive Enterprise Institute were challengers of the idea that climate change is man-made. The story should have specified that the two are challengers of the idea that climate change is a crisis that requires drastic action, and that in earlier years they raised questions about whether or how much of climate change was caused by humans.

Copyright 2018 The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

More Headlines

- Unscripted: New music from Kacey Musgraves, Hop Along helps usher in warmer weather
- Unified track and field brings new opportunity for student-athletes
- Remembering Robert Bobby, the witty and warm frontman of the Speedboys
- Wegmans store manager will oversee thousands of job interviews for new Lancaster location
- Launch Music Conference and Festival celebrates August Burns Red, continues educational panels on third day
- East Petersburg's Hess wins 10th annual Garden Spot Village Marathon
- Warwick grad Stepina lands job with York Revolution
- Home runs pace Lampeter-Strasburg to win over Manheim Central
- McCaskey basketball program, fans honor Powell and Burkholder
- Man drowns after slipping police custody, running into Ephrata creek
- [Late goals end defensive battle between USA Field Hockey and Chile in a 1-1 tie Saturday \[video\]](#)