CFR Citation: 43 CFR 25

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Department of the Interior proposes a public review process for hydropower conditions and prescriptions established by the Department under the Federal Power Act. The Department also proposes to create an administrative appeals process for review of these measures. The Federal Power Act authorizes the Department to include in hydropower licenses issued by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission conditions and prescriptions necessary to protect Federal and tribal lands and resources when navigable waterways or Federal reservations are used for hydropower generation. These proposed processes are designed to coincide with and complement the commission's overall licensing process.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 31 USC 3720D

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 39

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule adopts the authority established under the Debt Collection

Improvement Act (DCIA) to use administrative wage garnishment to collect delinquent non-tax debts. The DCIA allows a Federal agency collecting delinquent non-tax debt from a non-Federal employee to issue a wage garnishment order without first obtaining a court order. In order to be allowed to use this procedure, the Department adopts, without change, the administrative wage garnishment regulations issued by the Department of the Treasury.

1444. NATURAL RESOURCE DAMAGE ASSESSMENTS: TYPE B PROCEDURESPriority: Other SignificantLegal Authority: 42 USC 9651(c)CFR Citation: 43 CFR 11Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: CERCLA and the Clean Water Act allow natural resource trustees to bring a claim against a potentially responsible party for resources that have been injured by a release of a hazardous substance. CERCLA requires that natural resource damage assessment regulations be promulgated and that the regulations be reviewed, and revised as appropriate, every two years. This rulemaking is the biennial review of the administrative process for conducting assessments as well as the so-called type B procedures for determining injury and damages through scientific and economic studies. This rulemaking will also address the calculation of lost non-use values of natural resources, in compliance with State of Ohio v. Department of the Interior, 880 F.2d 432 (D.C. Cir. 1989), which ordered the Department to allow for the assessment of all reliably calculated values lost as a result of a natural resource injury.

Abstract: The Service will propose to revise the permit appeal process to transfer the final appeal decision on migratory bird permits to the Director. Migratory bird permits are issued in the Service's seven Regional offices. Current regulations provide that when a permit is denied, and a subsequent request for reconsideration is denied, an appeal may be submitted to the Regional Director for the Region in which the issuing office is located. Adjusting the review structure in the Regions and transferring the final appeal decision to the Director will better ensure consistent permit decisions nationally.

1458. SEIZURE AND FORFEITURE PROCEDURES—50 CFR PART 12Priority: Substantive, NonsignificantLegal Authority: 16 USC 3371 et seqCFR Citation: 50 CFR 12Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Service proposes to amend regulations in 50 CFR part 12 that establish procedures relating to property seized and administrative forfeiture under various laws enforced by the Service. This revision is intended to provide uniform guidance for the bonded release, appraisal, administrative proceeding, petition for remission, and disposal of items subject to forfeiture. Also, these revisions are intended to provide for greater consistency of Service seizure and forfeiture procedures with those of the U.S. Customs Service. In August 2000, the Civil Asset Forfeiture Reform Act became law. CAFRA mandated many changes to 50 CFR 12 that are incorporated in this second proposed rule.

1464. ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS; PROPOSED RECLASSIFICATION OF THE STRAIGHT-HORNED MARKHOR POPULATION OF THE TORGHAR REGION OF BALUCHISTAN, PAKISTAN, FROM ENDANGERED TO THREATENED

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We received a petition to reclassify a certain population of the straight-horned markhor from endangered to threatened. We must determine whether a status review shows that the petitioned action is warranted; if so, we will propose to change the classification of the straight-horned markhor population of the Torghar Hills region of Baluchistan Province, Pakistan, from endangered to threatened under the Endangered Species Act of 1973. The markhor is a species of wild goat that occurs in small, isolated populations in rugged, arid mountain habitats in Afghanistan, India, Pakistan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan.

Abstract: We plan to remove the Gulf Coast population of the brown pelican (Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi) from the List of Endangered and Threatened Species. We propose this action because the available data indicate that the threats to the species in this range have been removed or reduced and, as a result, brown pelican breeding levels have been and continue to be at or above historical levels, and population numbers and productivity continue to increase.

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We plan to remove the Arizona agave (Agave arizonica), a plant, from the list of threatened and endangered species. Since the listing, a growing body of evidence has led to the determination that the succulent—found only where the range of Toumey's agave (Agave toumeyana var. bella) and the golden-flowered agave (Agave chrysantha) overlap—is indeed a hybrid of the two parent-species. Controlled experiments on the reproductive limitations of the Arizona agave conducted at the Desert Botanical Garden in Phoenix have confirmed that the plant is a hybrid. Hybrid plants—a phenomenon common among agaves—are not eligible for protection under the Endangered Species Act.

Abstract: The Service is exploring a revision to the Mexican gray wolf nonessential experimental population rule. In 2000, a panel of scientists recommended a revision to the experimental population rule after conducting a 3-year review of the program. The Service intends to allow for the direct release of wolves into an expanded release area, but still within the area where wolves are currently authorized to occur. Abstract: We plan to propose this rule to comply with our commitments made under a conservation easement among the United States, the State of Alaska, and Koniag Inc. to permit public use of private lands within the boundaries of Kodiak National Wildlife Refuge Alaska. The conservation easement furthers the missions of the Service and the National Wildlife Refuge System and the purposes of Kodiak National Wildlife Refuge. The easement lands affected by this rule are along Karluk River and Karluk Lake on Kodiak Island, Alaska. This rule will apply as long as the conservation easement is in place. Without this rule, the Service would fail to perform an obligation and Koniag, Inc. would have the right to terminate the conservation easement.

Abstract: We plan to make a final determination on a proposal to remove the Eggert's sunflower from the List of Endangered and Threatened Species. This action is based on the recent completion of population and distribution studies, the commitment of land managers to the protection and management of several populations, and the discovery of previously undocumented populations throughout the species' range. On May 22, 1997, the Eggert's sunflower was designated as a threatened species. This species is known to occur in Alabama, Kentucky, and Tennessee.

Abstract: A final rulemaking action that removes language put into place by an FWS interim rule intended to govern the taking of northern sea otters by Alaska Natives for use in creating and selling handicrafts and clothing under section 101(b), the Native exemption section of the Marine Mammal Protection Act (MMPA). The proposed rule was published on June 4, 2004. Our interim rule revised the definition of “authentic native articles of handicrafts and clothing” in 50 CFR 18.3, to limit takes to the period “on or before December 21, 1972” and precluded the take of sea otters by Alaska Natives for use in creating and selling handicrafts and clothing under section 101(b).

We annually prescribe outside limits (frameworks), within which States may select hunting seasons. We also request proposals from Indian tribes that wish to establish special migratory bird hunting regulations on Federal Indian reservations and ceded lands. Migratory game bird hunting seasons provide hunting opportunities for recreation and sustenance; aid Federal, State, and tribal governments in the management of migratory game birds; and permit harvests at levels compatible with migratory bird population status and habitat conditions.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant
Legal Authority: 16 USC 4201 to 4245
CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17.21
Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We propose to amend the Endangered Species Act regulations by adding a new subsection that would authorize otherwise-prohibited acts that enhance the propagation or survival of captive-bred populations of three antelope that have been proposed for listing as endangered: Scimitar-Horned oryx, Addax, and Dama gazelle. These species would not be exempted from the permit requirements of the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Flora and Fauna.

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant
Legal Authority: 16 USC 3111
CFR Citation: 36 CFR 242 ; 50 CFR 100
Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule would establish regulations for fishing seasons, harvest limits, methods, and means related to taking of fish and shellfish for subsistence uses during the 2006-07 regulatory year. The rulemaking is necessary because subpart D is subject to an annual public review cycle. When final, this rulemaking would replace the fish and shellfish taking regulations included in the "Subsistence Management Regulations for Public Lands in Alaska, Subpart D 2005-06 Subsistence Taking of Fish and Wildlife Regulations," which expire on March 31, 2006. This rule would also amend the Customary and Traditional Use Determinations of the Federal Subsistence Board and the General Regulations related to the taking of fish and shellfish.

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: Final, Judicial, July 2005.

Abstract: Court order: (1) Reconsider exclusions from the final designation of critical habitat, except for those lands within 5 California counties excluded based on potential economic impacts, and publish new final determination as to those lands within 120 days, inclusive of a 60-day public comment period on the exclusions; and (2) reconsider the exclusion of the five California counties based on potential economic impacts and publish a new final determination no later than July 31, 2005.

Abstract: Pursuant to a court order, we confirmed the noneconomic exclusions made to our August 6, 2003, final rule to designate critical habitat for four vernal pool crustaceans and eleven vernal pool plants in California and southern Oregon (68 FR 46684). Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq; 16 USC 1361 to 1407

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: We plan to amend the current manatee protection area regulation for the Lower St. Johns River Manatee Refuge by lessening the restrictions in certain areas. This would allow small recreational watercraft a broader area of operation at 25 mph, thereby reducing the potential for collisions with commercial watercraft in the main channel. In addition, this change would permit use of new signage that would be more easily seen by boaters and more easily enforced, improving safety for manatees.

1677. • COST RECOVERY FOR PLANS, PERMITS, AND INSPECTIONS FOR OIL AND GAS OPERATIONS IN THE OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 31 USC 9701

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The Independent Office Appropriations Act of 1952 (31 U.S.C. 9701) established that government services should be self-sustaining to the extent possible. This Act authorized government agencies to charge fairly for these services, based on the costs to the Government, the value of the service to the recipient, public policy, and other relevant facts. MMS incurs costs for various services it provides to the oil and gas industry operating in the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS). This rule would enable MMS to recover these costs, which may include filing fees for geological and geophysical permits, exploration and development plans, deep water operations plans, well permits, facility permits, and structure permits. MMS currently does not charge for these services. Rulemaking is the only method available to impose these fees and comply with the intent of Congress to recover government costs.

This is a separate rulemaking from the proposed rule for cost recovery (RIN 1010-AD16), which proposes fees for different services.

Proposed Rule Stage

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: The recently published final rule 1010-AC71 created a process for certain leases (those that are inadequately helped by our formal relief systems) to seek special royalty relief. However overly restrictive eligibility criteria may exclude some leases that fulfill statutory purposes while redundant criteria may include other leases that do not fit statutory purposes. This rule will refine the eligibility criteria to include marginal discoveries in the shallow water part of the Gulf of Mexico that may offer meaningful conservation or infrastructure preservation benefits.

Abstract: Subpart J Safety regulations are 20 years old and technically and administratively out of date with MMS

This proposed rule is the first phase of a planned two-phase update of the regulations. This phase I will incorporate the NLTs and LTLs and give the requirements the force and weight of law. Abstract: The Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (OCSLA) requires pipelines to provide open and non-discriminatory access to shippers of production. The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) has historically enforced this provision through its enforcement of the Natural Gas Act (NGA) and the Interstate Commerce Act. Beginning in the 1990s, FERC began relinquishing NGA jurisdiction over some of these pipelines. FERC contended it still maintained authority under OCSLA, however, the Courts have ruled otherwise. In order to provide shippers with a methodology to file complaints alleging denial of access or discriminatory access, MMS is proposing regulations to fill this regulatory gap.

1702. SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS FOR ULTRA-DEEP DRILLING

Priority: Substantive, Nonsignificant

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1331 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Legal Deadline: None

Abstract: This rule would allow suspension of operations for leases in less than 800 meters of water on geologic structures targeted by an ultra-deep well that has commenced drilling. The high cost and complexity of drilling an ultra-deep well discourage companies from drilling without sufficient expectation of using the information as part of a larger drilling program. This proposed rule allows companies that drill an ultra-deep well to use the information gained to analyze geologically related leases and provides additional time to drill those leases.

Abstract: MMS needs to amend its current regulations to reflect updated procedures for businesses to use when supplying MMS with their contact information. Because the existing rule contains obsolete procedures, MMS is not receiving updated contact information that it needs to be able to send important correspondence to companies. This rule will put a small burden on industry to complete an address/contact form on an as-needed basis. The form will be made available to industry by request or via the MMS website.

Priority: Other Significant

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 870; 30 CFR 872

Abstract: This rule sets forth the criteria and procedures that we are proposing to use to establish fees under the abandoned mine reclamation program provisions of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (SMCRA). The fixed-rate fees established under SMCRA expire September 30, 2004. However, the Act requires that, for coal produced after that date, fees be established to continue to provide for transfers from the Abandoned Mine Reclamation Fund to the Combined Benefit Fund. This proposed rule would implement that requirement. We are also proposing to revise our regulations governing allocation and disposition of the fees collected and of other AML Fund income.
